

elvie stride

Now launching through insurance Elvie Stride the ultra-quiet, hands-free electric breast pump.

Designed to move with you, Elvie Stride is easy to set up for single or double pumping while sitting comfortably under clothing. Liberating users from sockets and restrictive wires, now mothers can discreetly express without compromising on pumping performance.

The closed system protects both mother and baby, and hospital-strength: up to -270 mmHG, plus 2 modes and 20 intensity settings.

Users can connect Elvie Stride to the free app, allowing users to control the pump remotely, save preferred settings, and track pumping history.

Hands-free

Worn under clothing, Elvie Stride collects milk in-bra, keeping your hands and body free to move. Take a walk, take a call, or just take time for yourself— with nothing to tie you down.

Ultra-quiet

Built with noise reduction technology, Elvie Stride blends into the background for true pumping discretion.

Connected

Connect to the free Pump with Elvie app to control your pump remotely and keep tabs on your pumping history. It's smarter, so you don't have to pump harder.

Complete control

Choose from 10 intensity settings in both Stimulation and Expression modes for optimal comfort and efficiency. Customize your pump so it always starts with your preferred settings.

Pump with Elvie app

Elvie Stride works with or without the app. But, connecting to the app allows users to make the most of their pumping sessions by controlling the pump remotely and tracking their pumping history for each breast.

It's also possible to save default preferences for a quick start to each pumping session.
